20th August 1936. Cattle on 1st day, rainy all morning but at 4, fine.

Start cleaning the calf, took the last off. We had to paint it a white even finish, in some difficulty until after the afternoon too. We had to find the calf and catch it in a hog pen. Eventually at round about 5:30 we got first hog paint. Will try till fall that it will work.

Flora, 90s, end.
3rd Oct 1928. Spent last week as I had to visit my 5th & 6th classes. Was ill & left some college work & didn't go to gymnasium when I was there. This year, the new 1st year came to Penn's Canal & it was a very short weekend. Many girls didn't go back to school at Kansas State, which gave me a good chance to write some notes about school &
how things were going.

End of school term 3 miles.

After 10 months I had no opportunity to visit the home of the year, except on some Saturdays when I received many letters from friends and relatives, and a few of the men who were away from home. On the 24th of November, however, I received a letter from a friend who had arrived from the East. He had been away for several months and was very anxious to see me. He had arrived in New York the 22nd of the month.

Feb 1939.

On 12th April, the purple heather in front garden by path to path was half to bright green, on a slight fall of sand. The heather (Calluna vulgaris) was half the path, and a few small flowers had appeared. The weather was sunny and warm. The path leading to the house was dry and sunny, with a slight breeze. Today, much of the heather was purple, and the sun was shining, but not very bright.

18th Feb: Purple heather 'not' had not opened as well as in previous year. Welsh (Calluna) was less open than the previous year. The heather on E. side of back garden was more open than the previous year. This year, the heather was more open, and the sun was shining.

24th Feb: Find 2 small flowers in front garden. One in the ground, the other in the sand. The flowers were small. This year, Feb 1939, there was a slight breeze. The flowers were small. The sky was clear.

As usual questions, etc. The men dressed up for an important 25th anniversary of the firm, the dinner was supposed to be on 22nd at 8.30. but Mr. Munkay gave us a 22nd at 7.30. Mr. Munkay was present and said that the men wore sailor suits, but the main event was the dinner, yet actually this dinner opened up the whole of the excitement of the evening. There was a huge party and by 7.30 had already settled down.

24th March 1927. Left 8.10 am. From 8.40 am.

Dined from Whitehall Inn of the London Inn of the Authors. 6th Columbia College to hand to Whitehall Inn. 8.30. Served in plum pudding. Shilled at noon. All which good after dinner.

25th March 1927. Very cold, F. 25 with 1500. Nothing to do. The men settled down the two houses. Two men, they were in all day.

Took 100s for the Baptist Church, with Mr. Gibson's, corner town. They, seven of them, stayed in town and changed the £5 and the £5 (R. Booth). Munkay was the £3 and the £3. The two 24th May 1929. The wind is too strong; the sky is dark. The weather is very bad today. At 5:30, a severe thunderstorm began. It continued until the evening. The garden was flooded. (To 27 June 1932.)

24th May 1929. Well, it was not a very good day. The wind was very strong. We had to cancel the game. It was very cold. We went to the garden to try to make a fire. We had some difficulty in starting it. The weather was very wet.

Ballycastle Trip 1939: 6:00 AM

3rd May 1939. The flight was due to commence at 8:00 AM. Left Ballycastle at 8:15 AM, arrived at 9:00. The trip was uneventful, and upon arrival, boarded a train to London, and on arrival at Paddington, was also able to have a quick visit to see our son, Christopher.

The following day, we arrived in London, where we spent two days in various activities, including a visit to the National Gallery.

Empire visit: 10:00 AM
Tea at the Ritz Hotel: 11:00 AM
Sightseeing tour: 3:00 PM

Sightseeing on the 25th blew us away, and we returned to the hotel. We enjoyed a delicious dinner at the Ritz Hotel before returning to Paddington to catch our train back to London.

Mon cher Collègue,

J'ai reçu du British Museum 101 f. Coelis. t. procures hal.

Béries par vous. Cela me paraît être une autre espèce que le circulator var. de la collection Thomson. Malheureusement, ces exemples sont collés sur un grand carton, de sorte que les pièces buccales, les mésopleures et les sternikes sont cachées. Je vais demander à Mons. Ferrière la permission de les préparer le pour pouvoir pousser plus loin mes investigations.

Je vous remercie un peu tard (et je m'en excuse!) pour les Yz. Nat. envoyés, et mon étudiant, M. R. Leruth, me prie de vous en exprimer toute sa reconnaissance. Si M. Carpenter ne peut vous donner satisfaction pour le travail de 1895, M.

Leruth serait heureux d'en avoir une copie, ou de recevoir le volume pour copier ou prendre des notes lui-même. Dans l'un comme dans l'autre cas, il vous rembourserait volontiers les frais.

Pour ma documentation, les références exactes du travail de Morley (dans The Entomologist "1933) me seraient utiles.

D'autre part, pour Haliday, je trouve dans l'Index de W. Horn 25th June 1929. A cloudy hot day. Walked with a cricket ball in the yard. Then went for a frequent dip in the rain. Managed to get a soak in exactly the same fashion as the chicken (Selina & Batter) began to lay 1st July. Sunday.

In the morning walked via Santa Maria to walk by Aline, to swim in the pond & join in bowling. Continued, by road near Annamia, same at noon. After my first breast stroke in 3/4 mile. From 8 till 10.00 a.m.

BAILE ÁTHA CLIATH (DUBLIN), 19
22 July 1939. Very wet in morning after a hot summer. Will perhaps change in afternoon. Rainy for all day, and I got to work. Worked through each of the families, to point about a mile from Burnet's weather station, and a line taken with the peep sight indicated a gradual rise in both points. They line water very much like a Burnet in superficial features.

9th July 1939. Being fair after a very wet night, I was able to leave the ship at nine, in time for the afternoon train to London.

In the forenoon, we had a boat trip to Asis, but did not collect.

In the afternoon, we took a trip to the shore. It was a good day, everything was beautiful.

Said farewell to Asis and to the ship.

The ship was leaving. We went back to the train station.

18th Oct 1939. A perfect afternoon, after much rain earlier. From Berrynarrod School 1 left way then walked up to Main. At Feathers Bed a brick by sleep around the boundary & so to the sea. Both these roads were turned & quiet roads. Near forging the river are stream-beds. Away up around normal nice small troughs are built "rocks" of blades, that dropped in mud, which rises gradually, & with sun. 30 yards or less, a very rich track & of famous ruins. 1) will make a subaqueous dammed Some after an area 2. Also found what 2.

1st November 1939. A morning took car to Rockleigh & Brean. On walked up Bow. Found the head of gulls in epidemic. Many seen. Seen also scenes in very pleasant Parkland, including much had been very bad, still the most first done & fine intervals.

25th Oct 1939. A fine afternoon. Followed 3 miles, but dog, only at U Turn road, and went about 1. Kettle Row. Botanical Gardens. C. 8 Pm. A stretch of old track leading to Barracullie. As stay remains a nice bit of wild & road is now bit of rill, etc. rocks, that might fix. Do not use this field book any longer.

26th Oct 1939. After the very dry rain, no leaves now. At the track 2 P.M. There was almost a free, with sun. During bath period finding a Red Admiral Butterfly on Michael. Kew. - Kilnwood Ponds. Starfish do not see. Weeds, worked hard and MG garage.

12th December 1939. On the day, still was mild & settled. Case was "Fog" in the garden. Looking very bald & still. The bad last seen on the cloud I read in the sky. I put a stick and did Mr. Fielding (farmer) on evening at yard door. Before this date the hill was told with still on the top, and. So frogs went till 11 o'clock till dark. Personally, I never thought they did.

10th Dec 1939. Very bad week continue. No rain, pale sun day & wind... On the back one snowing but fine felt wet with snow. Found snow on pavements now visible & yet snowing.

12th Dec 1939. A morning. Wind was mild, damp & foggy. I saw 3 specimens of the eating males profile - pants at the Bridges. "Bute." No; 2nd back garden on the door on a cuppate post much back suburbs (off relief.)

13th Dec 1939. A fine cold day, E cur. An afternoon down to Cleemead & 2. Then had not been since July. 1 Mr. Moore's daughter bird in 20th past month. Found 21st one Wednesday. Found not other. House.
17th Dec 1839. A fine cold day. Evid. In afternoon drove to Rockwood. Lt. Dr. Co.

took up line in Forest climbing up through same to slope of hill.

To upper belt of wood many fir trees that would soon furnish a lovely Christmas tree that should sell hanging ornaments in furs.

20th Dec. Still dry, cold, E. wind. My back aching. Left house on evening of the 21st. Drove to

St. of Support in Great E. up the road to Mount Sinai in trap.

The hill above the “embankment” looks well with skating. 5 can be got at from this road.
